

LISA SPENCER

Lisa is the Communications Manager for Nunavummi Disabilities Makinnasuaqtiit Society (NDMS). She creates resource materials, engages with community partners and advocates for equity in the North. Lisa has a background in early childhood education and child and youth care. She is a disabled advocate for both herself and her children. Lisa is a firm believer in social justice and community-led initiatives. She continues to incorporate critical self-reflection and anti-oppressive practices in both her personal life and profession.