Amadou BA
Lecturer History Department Nipissing University
Lecturer School of Education and Political Science Department Laurentian University
Historian, Researcher and Writer

Historian, researcher and writer, Amadou BA holds a Doctorate in history (specialization in colonial history of Africa), a Master's in Political Science and a bachelor's degree in Teaching/Education. Currently, he teaches African history at Nipissing University (North Bay Ontario). He also teaches in the Faculty of Education and in the Department of Political Science at Laurentian University (Sudbury, Ontario). Amadou BA has written four books on his own: The Great Empires (7th – 17th centuries): 1000 Years of Economic Prosperity, Political Unity, Social Cohesion and of Cultural Influence, EditionsAB, 2020, The forgotten history of the contribution of Black slaves and Soldiers to the Building of Canada (1604-1945), published by Editions Afrikana in 2019. Speaker, notably sharing his research on Black history in Canada and North America, Amadou Ba is very active in the Francophone community in Ontario and Canada. In February 2020, he was elected the 13th Ambassador of the Franco-Ontarian Heritage Network (RPFO) making him the first French-speaking Canadian from outside the country to hold this position.