Notice to the Profession

Remote Calls for Members with Restricted Appearance Certificates

If you are a member of the Law Society of Nunavut (LSN) who has been granted a Restricted Appearance Certificate (RAC), you may become a regular member of the Nunavut bar by taking an oath in your local Canadian superior court. You do not need to travel to Nunavut to take the oath if you are unable to do so.

If you wish to get called to the Nunavut bar in your local Canadian superior court, the process will be as follows:

1. Please advise the LSN that you intend to get your call in your local superior court and provide us the relevant details.

2. The LSN shall provide you with a Certificate of Entitlement and the Oath contemplated by The Legal Profession Act, RSNWT (Nu) 1988, c L-2 (the "Act"). The LSN shall also provide a covering letter to your local superior court.

3. You are responsible for contacting your local superior court to make arrangements to take the oath before a judge and for the judge to sign the oath.

4. Once you have taken the oath, please return to signed oath to the LSN whereupon the LSN shall enroll you as a member of the LSN.

Once enrolled as a regular active member of the LSN bar, your ability to practice law will not be limited by the RAC. You will be able to practice law in Nunavut broadly. You will be assessed the renewal fees for membership as contemplated by the Rules of the Law Society of Nunavut.

Please contact the LSN with respect to this Notice at support@lawsociety.nu.ca with subject line Remote Call. Your email will be answered within 2 business days.
